

Journal of Social Issues, 49 (1)*-- Issue editor: S. Plous

Contents:

Plous, S., The role of animals in human society, pp. 1-9.

Human-Animal Relations

Plous, S., Psychological mechanisms in the human use of animals, pp. 11-52.

Kellert, S., Attitudes, knowledge, and behavior toward wildlife among the industrial superpowers: United States, Japan, and Germany, pp. 53-69.

Opatow, S., Animals and the scope of justice, pp. 71-85.

Eddy, T., Gallup, G. G., Jr., & Povinelli, D. J., Attribution of cognitive states to animals: Anthropomorphism in comparative perspective, pp. 87-101.

Animal Rights and Animal Research

Herzog, H. A., "The movement is my life": The psychology of animal rights activism, pp. 103-119.

Baldwin, E., The case for animal research in psychology, pp. 121-131.

Bowd, A. D., & Shapiro, K. J., The case against animal research in psychology, pp. 133-142.

Companion Animals

Tannenbaum, J., Veterinary medical ethics: A focus of conflicting interests, pp. 143-156.

Siegel, J. M., Companion animals: In sickness and in health, pp. 157-167.